Information on the Notes

Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc. (the “Issuer”) has issued Strategic Accelerated Redemption Securities (“STARS”) linked to the value of the Dow Jones Industrial Average (the “Index”). The STARS were priced at $10 each and mature on April 2, 2010.

The STARS are senior, unsecured debt securities of the Issuer that provide for an automatic call of the securities if the closing level of the Index on any observation date is greater than or equal to the Starting Value of the Index, as determined on the pricing date.

If the STARS are called on any observation date, investors will receive a payment of:

• If called in April 2009: $11.08 per unit
• If called in October 2009: $11.62 per unit
• If called in April 2010: $12.16 per unit

If the notes are not called prior to the maturity date, then at maturity:

(1) If the Ending Index Value is greater than or equal to the Threshold Value, investors will receive:

$10

(2) If the Ending Index Value is less than the Threshold Value, investors will receive:

$10 + [$10 x (Ending Index Value – Threshold Value / Starting Value) x 1]

The Starting Value of the Index is 12,422.86. The Threshold Value is 11,180.5740. The Ending Index Value will be determined near the maturity date.

Please see the prospectus for the Notes for more details regarding the calculations.
It is expected that the market value of the STARS will depend substantially on the value of the Index and may be affected by a number of other interrelated factors including, among other things: the general level of interest rates, the volatility of the Index, the time remaining to maturity, the dividend yield of the stocks comprising the Index, and the credit ratings of the Issuer.
